JSTINGING MESSAGE.

GOVERNOR STONE'S GREETING TO THE EDITOR OF THE "TIMES."

NOT FULL OF BROTHERLY LOVE.

PACT, THE LANGUAGE USED IS STRONG AND TO THE POINT.

All Attempts to Force Appointments Down His Throat Will Fait-He Is Still Governor and Will Bend to No Influence.

Governor William J. Stone was in the ty for about three hours last evening ad his visit set the aspirants for the positions of police commissioners and chief of police to work at a great rate. The Coates House was thronged during the evening with the aspirants and workers, each anxious to get to say something to the governor on the subfect of how to make the best nominations for the positions that are, or are liable to be, vacant.

Governor Stone and Lieutenant Governor O'Meara came up from Columbia with the Spencer wedding party and they were beset with the politicians as soon as they left the banquet rooms and started down stairs and were even followed to the depot.

Despite the persistence of the men and the schemes they used, they were unable to get anything out of the executive that was reassuring or calculated to arouse their enthusiasm. He was in possession of some very interesting information, but he kept his own counsel and the city was little wiser for his visit, so far as information concerning the appointments is concerned. He was emphatic in some of his utterances to the politicians who saw him and left them with pretty well defined ideas that when the police commissioners are named they will be named by Governor Stone, and that the attempt to force appointments down his throat would certainly fail.

Some of the men who saw him were pleased with that impression, while Despite the persistence of the men and

Some of the men who saw him were pleased with that impression, while others were very much displeased and disappointed.

Among the men who met the governor, or attempted to meet him at the Coates House, was Marshal Henry Stewart, who is an aspirant for chief of police. He was in company with his friend and backer, Frank Peck, but they only got to speak with Governor Stone as he walked through the lobby. The most persistent man in the crowd was Attorney Lucas, who waited for the governor at the foot of the stairs and seized him by both hands as he came atterney Lucas, who waited for the governor at the foot of the stairs and seized him by both hands as he came down. He held a whispered conversation for a few moments, but received from the governor the assurance as they parted that no man or set of men could cram a nomination down his neck, and that he would name the commissioners himself at the proper time. Mr. Lucas was urging the claims of one of the men who want to be chosen commissioner. Governor Stone said to a representative of the Journal, with whom he talked for a few minutes, that the names of the commissioners would be made public at the proper time and that he would name them himself. Farther than that he did not care to discuss the matter, as the occasion was not the proper one, and there was absolutely nothing to be said, inasmuch as the nominations were not announced.

Governor Stone administered a stinging rebuke to the editor of the Times for the dictation that paper had attempted in the matter of choosing the commissioners and shaping the policy of the governor. When he was asked if he had anything to say to the Times, he replied he had nothing, but he had something to say to the editor of the Times, and sent a message like this:

"Tell Mr. McDonald that I am still governor of the state of Missouri and that I am not accepting the dictation of any — puppy." This remark caused much merriment among the politicians gathered in the lobby, as it was made in the presence of several gentlemen and there was no effort on the part of the governor to keep it from being heard.

Governor Stone left for Jefferson City on the train at 9 o'clock in company with Lieutenant Governor O'Meara. He dropped no remark during his stay here that indicated anything as to what his ideas or intentions were except that he was not going to be dictated to by any man or men.

SLOAN-KESHLEAR RECOUNT.

Few Objections Ruised and Good Progress Made.

Made.

More progress was made yesterday by Recorder of Voters Arnold and his deputies in the Sloan-Keshlear recount than on any day since it began. The recount of the ballots cast in the Fourth precinct, which was begun on Monday, was finished. All the ballots cast in the Fifth precinct were recounted and a partial recount of the ballots cast in the Sixth precinct was made. The attorneys for Keshlear seem to have arrived at the conclusion that they will obtain no ultimate advantage by causing a delay of the recount. They offered but feedblections during yesterday's proceedings.

UNREVEALED ROMANCE.

Justice Spitz Called Upon to Wed a Jackson County Couple.

A good looking young couple called at the office of Justice Spitz, on Grand avenue, yesterday morning and asked to be quietly married. It was the first ceremony performed by that justice, but with an open law book before him he united the couple in a graceful manner. The license for the marriage was issued February 21, and there was a romance back of the affair that neither would reveal. The marriage certificate bore the names of Edward Slade and Sarah A. Riley, both of Jackson county,

Probably the Same Kensmann.

Chief Speers received a letter from St. Louis yesterday stating that Diedrich Kensmann, whose wife was murdered in a vacant house on Baltimore avenue, had married a fairly well-to-do widow of Carondelet. The marriage was the result of an advertisement published in the St. Louis papers by the widow for a husband. Though it is believed that the man who married the widow is the Diedrich Kensmann who became famous in this city on account of the mysterious murder of his wife, the Carondelet Diedrich Kensmann strenuously denies it. The descriptions are the same. Chief Speers expects to receive a description of the Carondelet Diedrich Kensmann who was charged with the murder of Mrs. Kensmann, and whose case was dismissed after the acquittal of Kensmann, is now believed to be in Germany.

Recount Postponed.

County Clerk Crittenden announced yesterday that he would postpone the recount in the Sloan-Kershlear election contest until April 8 in order to give Mr. Keshlear an opportunity to be present, as he had demanded. Clerk Crittenden stated that he did so with the consent of Indge Slover, and that when April 8 arrived, if the recount in the recorder of voters office should not be completed, he would further postpone the recount. He said that the law was his sole authority, as it would be a hard matter to enforce a law that required a man to be in two places at once, canless, "he added, with a wink of the eye, "they were places of political preferent." Mr. Crittenden stated that, in the meantime, he would commence on the De Bord-McCurdy recount to-morrow. Recount Postponed.

FIGHT WITH A MAD WOLF.

Perrible Experience of Henry T. Clark While Rounding Up Cattle Thirty Miles From Camp Supply.

Henry T. Clark, a stockman of Camp Supply, I. T., was at the Union depot yes-terday on his return to his home, his face and neck swathed with bandages. He has been in Kansas City undergoing treatment for wounds inflicted by a mad wolf. He told a thrilling story of his encounter with told a thrilling story of his encounter with the wolf while waiting for his train.
"I was rounding up some cattle about thirty miles from Camp Supply," he said,
"and was some distance from the herd
when I saw an animal moving toward ne in a swaggering way and with his tongue lelling and dripping with from I saw in a moment that it was a mad wolf. Wolves have the hydrophobia in the same way that dors do, the symptoms being precise ly alike. A mad wolf will tackle anything, I put spars to my horse, but it shied so suddenly at the sight of the animal that I was thrown." Clark then told how the wolf had leaped upon him, almost in a seond. "I had a frightful conflict with the mad animal," said the sturdy looking stockman. "When his teeth sank into my face and neck I thought I would yield with pain ane faint away, but I thusily god out my Colc's and killed the animal. fils teeth sank into my arm just as I pulled the trigger."
Clark had mad stones applied to his trisger. The same and the same applied to his wounds and also had them cauterized. When he came to Kansas City and stopped at the Pacific house a couple of days ago his wounds were terribly swollen and inflamed. All the inflammation was gone yesterday and Clark said he had hopes that his wounds would not prove serious.

OAK STREET PAVING.

A Petition Calling for Asphalt Has Been Filed.

The Oak street paying matter has been still further complicated by the recom-mendation by the board of public works yesterday of a resolution for paying the street from Twelfth to Flitteenth with asphalt. The lower house at its last meeting defeated the old ordinance for paving the arrest from Twelfth to Eighteenth with brick, and petitions were filed for gravel macadam from Twelfth to Eighteenth and from Eighteenth to Nineteenth. The proceedings thus had to be begun over again, and they were begun over again by the filing of a majority petition from Twelfth to Flitteenth street for asphalt. The board also recommended a resolution for paving Tracy from Twelfth to Flitteenth with asphalt.

The board certified that the cight sewer districts mapped out by the city engineer conformed to the sewer plans of the city. Ordinances will soon be introduced for sewers in two of the districts locat about $25,800 each. street from Twelfth to Fifteenth with SEX.600 each.

The board approved plans and specifications for natural stone curbing. The deposit of $50 made by Walter Williams as a guarantee that he would correct irregularilies in the pavement of Locust street from Sixteenth to Seventeenth street was ordered returned to him.

LATSHAW WILL QUIT.

He Declined to Marry a Couple That Appeared Before Him.

Justice Latshaw notified Justice Spitz, yesterday, that he was ready to deliver to him the records of the Justice's office in that district, and that he could get them today by calling for them. The records cuyer a period of over twenty years and fill several bulky volumes.

A young couple appeared before Justice Latshaw yesterday to be married, but he said he could not perform the ceremiony. He had finally relinquished his hold on the office.

Everybody who is weak, delicate or sickly wants to get well. Dr. Groene, of 35 West 14th at. New York City, makes a specialty of treating patients through letter correspondence. The wisest thing all suffering people can do is to write the doctor, stating just how they feel, mentioning every symptom of which they complain, and he will answer the letter, explaining each symptom and describing the case so theroughly that patients understand their complaint as well as though they had talked with the doctor. He makes his explainetions so clear that they cannot help but understand just what alls them, and he tells exactly what to do to get well. It saves a journey to the city and doctor's fees, and costs nothing. Dr. Greene is the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases. He is the discoverer of that wonderful medicine, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve rounely. Thousands are being cured through his perfect system of letter correspondence. It has been proved successful.

Dealers in Cement.

The regular monthly meeting of the Missouri Valley Hard Plaster and Cement Club was held yesterday at the club room of the Coates House. The club combraces in its membership all of the leading dealers in cement and hard plaster in the principal cities of the Allissouri Valley and the tributary territory. The sessions of the club are strictly executive and the members refuse to talk concerning the members of Salina, Kas.; F. P. Hankins, Kas.; Elmer H. Wood, of Omaha, Neb.; H. Heavy Stock Feeders.

Messrs. David and William T. Rankin, of Parkio. Mo., were in the city yesterday investigating the stock market and the outlook for the spring trade. They are the heaviest feeders in the state and ship to market each year several thousand cattle and a large number of hogs. They are not feeding as many this year as usual owing to the short crop of corn in their part of the state.

CLAIM TO HAVE EVIDENCE. RETAIL BUTCHERS SAY THEY HAVE PROOF OF PACKERS COMBINE.

Documents Showing Its Existence Have Been, It Is Claimed, Secured for Use Before the Next Grand Jury -In High Glee-

When the grand jury is again convened the Retail Butchers' Association will endeavor to have the officers of the five packing houses in the city indicted for combining to control and manipulate the prices of meats sold to the retail butchers. The association made an effort to secure indictments last sumevidence of the combination they al-leged was in existence, and no true bills were returned.

With the recent activity in the fight waged by the butchers against the puckers, the matter of investigating the alleged combine again was taken up and ers, the matter of investigating the alleged combine again was taken up and the executive committee was instructed to procure the evidence which the officers stated was known to be in existence. The committee has been clussing the information very closely for the past two weeks and last evening one of the leading members of the retail association stated to a Journal reporter that he had at last secured the necessary documents to prove the combine, and they would be laid before the meeting Tuesday evening at Turner hall and later sent to the jury room for inspection. He was in great gice over the matter and declared that the packers were certain to be indicted, as the documents were certified to and proved the agreement claimed to be in existence.

The copies of the agreement were said to have been secured from a gentleman who has for many years held a confidential position with one of the large packing houses, but was let out very abruptly a few weeks since when the force was reduced. The dismissal of the man at the time occasioned some comment among the packers, as he had long been considered one of the most reliable employes of the company and held a very responsible position in the house. Goselp at the time had it that some bad blood had been engendered by the dismissal, and it is whispered that the packers are being knifed in revenge by turning some documents over to the butchers to use in securing indictments.

packers are being knifed in revenge by turning some documents over to the butchers to use in securing indictments. The rumor lends interest to the fight and the gles of the butchers attests the fact that they believe they have secured some inside information regarding the alleged combine.

The Second Appy Concert.

If was heard in the Ruberstein if not from the proposed of the provided and in an interest of three movements by Franz Ries. The music was not exacting, and yet it served to give the public a change to estimate in some hearse the powers of the new violants. Mr. Appy is a graceful player, and preduces smooth and substantial tones. He has a large degree of technical skills. He is not a master of the violin, but he is a conscientious and statious player, and will doubtless find good scope for his attainments in Kansas City. His best work was done in the trio, although he player the Ries animits exceedingly well. The whole Rubenstein trio, in which Mr. Appy was assisted by the elder Appy, with violoncello, and Mrs. Appy-Bourieius, at the plano, was well played throughout, and was the best concerted number the family has yet given. The plano part of this number was especially well interpreted. It would be well indeed in Mrs. Appy-Bourieius to confine herself to the plano for the present, for her vocal numbers detracted from the programme and her own commendable work as a pagnist.

Mr. Ernest Appy, Sr., gave his own nocturie, a very attractive and characteristic composition, which was well interpreted. Although well advanced in years, Mr. Appy plays with delightful technical this. The feature of the programme was the playing of Miss Cornelia Appy, the voung wellst, who made such a favorable impression at the first concept. Although her land musical and her expression so broad and truthful that it is a continuous delight to hear her. She seems destined to make a great 'cellist, She was repeatedly encored, and, although he finished the programme, the andlence remained seated and insisted upon recalling her for a repetition.

KRUEGER ON THE WAR PATH

THREATESS TO HAVE PROSECUTOR JAMISON ARRESTED.

Interesting Developments May Come Out of the Boycott Which Has Been Declared Against the Indicted dustice of the Peace.

David Pierce, committed to the county jail by Justice Withrow on a charge of assaulting William Fisher, was released yesterday merning on bond by Justice Krueger. Pierce was arrested Monday on a warrant sworn out before Justice Withrow, information having been filed previously been arrested on a warrant sworn out before Justice Kruger, the charge at first being felonious assault, When it was seen that the assault was not of a nature to warrant so serious a charge, the case before Justice Krueger was dismissed and a case of common assault was brought against Pierce in Justice Withrow's court.

policy adopted by the prosecuting atorney's office not to prosecute cases before Justice Krueger while he is under indictment for a felony, if it can be tvoided. By dismissing the case before Justice Krueger and instituting it in another court, the prosecuting attorney ould perform his duty in presecuting he offense and at the same time avoid doing so before a Justice who is under indictment, Informations do not have be filed in felony cases and it is into be filed in felony cases and it is intimated that Pierce was charged with a felony when he should have been charged only with a misdemeanor.

Justice Krueger and his attoracys are angry over the polley which Prosecuting
Attorney Jamison has seen it to pursue.
They say they will give him formal notice in the future of cases brought before Justice Krueger, accompanied by the request that he will prosecute them.
They construct the law to mean that he is compelled to comply with the request, Further, they threaten to arrest the prosecuting attorney on a charge of he prosecuting attorney on a charge of performing his duties as prosecution not performing his duties as prosecuting attorney, which, under the law is a mis-demeanor, and ask Criminal Judge Wor-ford for a special prosecutor. This is in brief the programme that they threaten to carry out if Prosecuting Attorney Jamison continues to carry out what he considers his conscientious duty in the natter.

At the presocuting attorney's office it Matter.

At the presocuting attorney's office it was confidently stated that the prosecutor was fully aware of all the law that touched on the matter and was taking no steps without due deliberation. There was a way to see that the majesty of the law was vinicated without doing it through the medium of Justice Krueger's court. As for cases against people charged with misdemeaner, they could not be brought into Justice Krueger's court, or any other court, legally, until information had been filed by the prosecuting atterney. The prosecuting attorney did not intend to refuse to file informations in any case where there should be prosecution, but he could exercise his discretion, but thought, in filing the information before any justice he wished. There was a broad smile on the faces of the entire prosecutor's staff yesterday when the threat of Krueger's attorneys to prosecutor is the alleged misdebroad smile on the faces of the enth-prosecutor's staff yesterday when the threat of Krueger's attorneys to prose-cute Mr. Jamison for the alleged misde-meanor of refusing to prosecute cases before him, was noised about.

It is expected, in view of the fact that the prosecuting attorney does not seem to have the remotest idea of relinquish-ing his position, and Justice Krueger is of the opinion, apparently, that he can be compelled to do so, that there will be some interesting developments in a short time. The attorneys for Justice Krueger are L. B. Kimbrell and J. J. Williams.

Yale's La Freckla. Death to Freckles.

Mme. M. Yale was recently asked the question "which of her discoveries she considered the most wonderful." Her reply was as follows: La Freckia, because it unmasked my own face from a filthy mass of freckles and gave me the beautiful rose leaf complexion which you see and which has been admired by the people of every nation. Before I discovered La Freckla I was a freckled face individual disgusted with my own appearance. To-day I am the envy of every woman who looks at my skin.

La Freckia will remove any case of freckles in existence and leave the skin as transparent as crystal. One or two applications remove tan and sunburn. It takes from three to nine days to destroy every trace of freckles. It is the only remedy known to the world that does this. Now is the time to use La Freckla, as it strengthens the skin, removes and prevents freckles and sunburn. $1.00 per bottle. Sold by all
